You Can Live To Be 110 in Robust Good Health

There is no biological law that compels a human life-span of only 70 or 80 years, with 20 to 30 of those years endured in poor health. Research has now shown that you can live as reasonably long, and as robustly, as you choose.

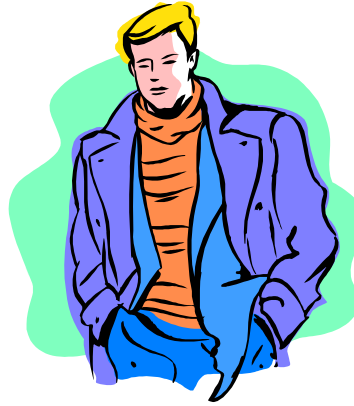

Your actual life-span, and the robustness of your health, will depend on the actions you choose to take, and on your environment. At HealthiLifer Robust Longevity Program^{IP}, our target is a life-span of 110 plus years, in robust good health.

Your Actions Are Indeed Critical

Your actions include what, and how much, you choose to eat, what you choose not to eat, and what physical activities you choose to do or not to do. We already know the environment is badly polluted, and we know you cannot avoid living in one polluted environment or another. As doctors, we now know it is these factors that make the critical difference. At HealthiLifer^{IP} Longevity, we can do something to help!

You can begin your Robust Longevity Program at your present age, because it's never too early to be wise. And it's better late than never!

What's The HealthiLifer^{IP} Robust Longevity Program^{IP}?

The HealthiLifer^{IP} Robust Longevity Program^{IP} is a special enhancement of the HealthiLifer Wellness Club Program^{IP}. We personalize it to enable individual Members to achieve true longevity in robust Good Health.

I developed the HealthiLifer Robust Longevity Program, which incorporates the results of my extensive, in-depth medical research into do-it-yourself health improvement and disease prevention. We personalize the Program for you as a unique individual; health professionals that I have also specially trained, supervise it. We provide the supervision over the telephone. What we do, and how we do it, are proprietary information. The HealthiLifer Supervision Protocol^{IP} remains a business secret, which every Program Member must agree to respect.

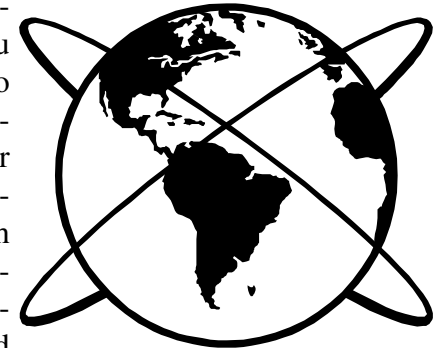

We supervise every individual Program through Supervisorium Chenax^{IP}, also known as SuperChenax^{IP}. SuperChenax is a Department of Chenax Majesty IP, Inc.; it is always headed by a specially-trained health professional. As a result of the unique Supervision Protocol^{IP}, which I developed and tested over the years, there is never any need for Program Members to visit us in New York City.

Where Is This Program Available?

The HealthiLifer Robust Longevity Program^{IP} is available worldwide, wherever a telephone service exists. If you are no longer willing to suffer with diminished health like the misled and uninformed

multitudes; if you are not in a hurry to die; you must invest in this personal health program. There is nothing else like it anywhere.
